THINKING BEYOND SELF, “I will thrust you from your office and pull you down from your station...Isaiah 22:19.” Isaiah places these harsh words in the mouth of God to warn the people of their egotism and immorality. They were acting as if they had no need of divine assistance, forgetting God was the originator of their lives and the giver of their abilities to be successful. They presumed wrongly that they had no need of God, believing they could do anything they pleased, regardless of how this behavior affected others. When I reflect upon this message for my own life, I am called to consider whether or not I turn sufficiently toward the Holy One for support and guidance. How much do I go about my life as if it was all up to me? And do I consider how my thoughts and actions affect others? Anytime I think myself beyond the need of divine grace, I know my life to be headed toward spiritual disaster, just as the people of Isaiah's day moved toward their misfortune. By Sr. Joyce Rupp, O.S.M.

HUMOR - Gary was having a yard sale. A deacon bought a lawn mower but returned it a few days later, complaining that it wouldn't run. "It'll run," said Gary. "But you have to curse at it to get it started." The minister was shocked. "I have not uttered a curse in 30 years." "Just keep pulling on the starter rope—the words will come back to you."
